

Monkey Gland 'Fountain of Youth' Complete Success, Voronoff Says

Man of 76 Grows New Head of Hair and Becomes Lively
—No Joke, Says Doctor to Congress of Surgery.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—Proof that rejuvenation of humans has been accomplished by means of the "monkey gland" operation was presented to the world this afternoon by Dr. Serge Voronoff in a public exhibition before the International Congress of Surgery.

Two men, operated upon two years ago, were presented by the famous Paris surgeon. They showed lasting effects of successful gland operations. One, Arthur Evelyn Lillard of London, at the age of seventy-six, has grown a complete new head of hair, and has been extremely active since his operation in 1920. He testified to the scientists regarding his feelings throughout the two years. Dr. Voronoff, in an interview, stated he purposely had delayed divulging of his success until he himself was absolutely certain it was permanent. He said he now makes humanity a present of many years' hard work. The operation, involving transferring glands from a living monkey to a human, is not the joke which many believed, but a simple and easy one, in which there is no danger, Voronoff explained. He showed motion pictures of his patients and the animals during the different stages of the operation.

LOOKS FOR SON ON SHIP; DAD FALLS INTO WATER

Line Strikes Him and Sends Another in River.

Soon after the United States Shipping Board boat Blair, from England with a cargo of Cardiff coal, docked this morning, Henry Orr, forty-two, of No. 23 Brevoort Place, Brooklyn, ran along Pier No. 2 in the hope of catching a sight of his son, employed on the ship. A line from the stern struck him in the chest and Mr. Orr was sent spinning into the water.

He swam back, he caught a second line and he followed Orr into the water. Three men from the Blair went overboard and pulled Mr. Orr out. He was sent to Broad Street Hospital. The other man, according to Navigating Officer Williams, saved himself and no report of his getting overboard was made by the police.

The son of the man who was nearly drowned shared in the excitement of "man overboard" and witnessed the rescue, not aware that his father was the victim until he was saved.

10,000 TAKE LITERACY TEST TO GET VOTES

Examination of Foreign Born to Continue To-Night.

Thousands of foreign born voters flocked to public schools last night to take the literacy test which decides their fitness to cast ballots under the regulation prescribed by the amendment to the New York State Constitution. The tests continue to-night, and the attendance for the two days is estimated at approximately 10,000.

The law requires that new voters be able to read intelligently selected parts of the State Constitution and answer in writing ten questions based upon the subjects read.

Literate women can no longer vote under the new regulations by reason of their husbands having successfully passed the literacy tests, but must themselves submit to an examination.
